CALL FOR PUBLIC PARTICIPATION ON THE DRAFT OSH (OIL AND GAS)
REGULATIONS TOGETHER WITH THE OIL & GAS INSPECTION GUIDELINES

IT IS NOTIFIED for general information of the public that the Draft Occupational Safety and Health (Oil & Gas) Regulations and; the Oil & Gas Inspection Guidelines made under the Occupational Safety and Health Act, 2007, are ready to be subjected to public participation. The draft regulations bridge the gap in the current legislations on adequate regulation of the this crucial and rapidly emerging sector of the Country's economy. The inspection guidelines integrate international best practices in the oil and gas safety operations. The draft Oil and Gas Regulations were subjected to key stakeholders' validation on 4th July 2019.

The Secretary Occupational Safety and Health Services invites members of the public to send written submissions of the aforementioned draft regulations and inspection guidelines. The draft regulations and guidelines can be downloaded from the State Department for Labour Website www.labour.go.ke

In your submission, mention the specific part you would want improved and any additional input. Comments should be addressed to the Secretary, Occupational Safety and Health and can be submitted through email address doshdept@labour.go.ke or doshdept@yahoo.com not later than 5.00pm on 31st May, 2021.

This call for submissions will last for 21 days from 10th May to 31st May, 2021.
